

In 14 July 2014, the agreement of the ASEAN European Academic University Network (ASEA-UNINET) has been established in promoting (1) the mutual recognition of academic degrees, diplomas and credits, (2) the admittance of students from partner universities on the basis of their degrees obtained at that university (providing that all conditions for admission are fulfilled), (3) the mutual waiving of tuition fees for students performing study programmes, if they have been nominated by an ASEA-UNINET member university (not including mandatory government taxes), (4) facilitate exchange of and access to materials within ASEA-UNINET research programmes, (5) provide support in identifying suitable academic supervisors and (6) provide support in administrative matters such as visa application, health insurance and accommodation. Therefore, as an effort to enhance the global understanding of higher education system, to support between consortium members to address variety of challenges in internationalisation, and to intensify people-to-people collaboration.

Indonesia is an Archipelago country with more than 17,000 islands (5 big islands) and 267,543,180 populations (2018). It has 33 Provinces and 300 distinct ethnicities along with 700 languages spoken. In addition, Indonesia is the Largest Economy in Southeast Asia, Member of G-20 Countries and the second-largest biodiversity in the world (after Brazil). As an emerging economic country, Indonesia has been promoting the mobility of student, faculties and support staff to increase the multi-cultural understanding which lead to harmony in the global world.

This September 2019, all members of ASEA UNINET are invited in the joint mobility program. The program aims to provide each representative the opportunity to implement their experience in internationalisation with many different perspective during the
